

Free Resource for Educators

The Student with Bipolar Disorder: An Educator's Guide has long been a very popular item on our website. We know that school is one of the most difficult issues for children with bipolar disorder. Year after year new teachers need information on our child's diagnosis. BPChildren is pleased to be a part of providing that information. Now we are delighted to let you know that this brochure will be available to even more teachers and school administrators in the form of a free download available on the teacher page of our website.

The text of the downloadable brochure differs slightly from the hard copy brochure. It has been expanded to include a sample accommodations page and minor changes have been made to a few areas of text to reflect current research.

This is in line with our mission statement to "help young people and adults understand more about childhood bipolar disorder."

Go to our teacher page to download this brochure.

Choose a Great Awareness Gift and Help Support BPChildren:

Here is one of many items that we have made available:

In This Issue

- Free Resource for Educators
- Awareness Gifts
- Online Education

A word about funding.

Please note that BPChildren does not and has never received grants from pharmaceutical companies. We have never been asked to represent any pharmaceutical company or give any speeches for a pharmaceutical company nor does our site receive advertising dollars from any company.

Tell us what you think of our talking characters!!

We know that not everyone likes to read. In this day and age most people skim a web page in a matter of a few seconds. In order to capture attention and try to educate, we have put some talking characters on our website. We are thinking of expanding to let these

Visit our Zazzle Store!

Online Education

Dr. David Miklowitz from the University of Colorado and William Shryer from Diablo Behavioral Healthcare have presented the topic "Juvenile-Onset Bipolar Disorder: Discussion, Diagnosis and Treatment Considerations" in an 80 minute teleconference format. This informational program is still available online for those interested.

Click here to learn more about this teleconference

characters answer FAQ's. Our talking characters can be found on our kids page, home page and teen page.

We want your opinion.

Do you like the talking characters or are they annoying!?!?

Email us and let us know.